Biography

The Dream

The dream of becoming a dj began at an early age for Rotterdam born Han Beukers (1966). As a youngster he listened to the soul show and mixes of Ben Liebrand on the radio. In the eighties he spent many hours listening and buying the latest new import records at Hotsound in Rotterdam where he also witnessed the birth of the house and later the trance music. During that time he regularly played at school parties under the artist name of "Studio1999". His sales and marketing career in Telecom & ICT brought him a different path during that time

The Dream continues

In the summer of 2015, Han refueled his old hobby and dream by buying a USB Numark DJ-set. The mixes he made as a bedroom dj were picked up by RTV Krimpenerwaard and in February of 2016 he launched a weekly radio show called Time4Trance. The fan base of this live radio show is steadily growing.

His enthusiasm for the Trance music and mixing did not remain unnoticed and in 2017 Han gets his shot at his boyhood dream with some live performances.
